Council votes to join appeal to keep Campbell High open

The City Council met in closed-door session Monday night to review the possibility of appeal. Later in the Council Chamber, the vote was 4-0 to pursue that course. Councilman Dean Chamberlin, on vacation, was absent.

THE BASIS for appeal, according to Councilman Norman Paul, is that the council "felt the closure is a project which the judge at one point agreed to and then changed (his mind)." A project requires an EIR, Paul indicated.

Another contention leading to the appeal is that "the closure is not linked to Proposition 13, not declining enrollment," Paul said. Under Proposition 13, a school district can close a school without an EIR if there isn't enough money to keep it open.

Paul, who made the motion Monday evening to pursue the appeal, said the council has asked the city attorney to "expedite the matter of the appeal as soon as possible. We don't want this matter hanging.

"As long as the (Campbell High School) question persists, we must exert our right to the appeal process."

Late bid for emergency rent control law fails

By ANNE HOUGHTELING

A BID TO get an emergency rent control ordinance on the Campbell books before June 3 has apparently failed.

The Campbell City Council meeting in special session Monday discovered not enough members would be able to vote to enact the emergency ordinance, which requires a four-fifths vote.

June 3 is the date when Californians vote on Proposition 10. If enacted, it would mandate that rent control be put up to the vote of the public.

A vote was impossible because Councilman Dean Chamberlin was absent on vacation and, according to the city attorney, another councilmember would have to abstain because of a conflict of interest. City Attorney Bob Dempster said the councilman informed him of the conflict only this weekend, after the special session had been publicized.

City Manager Robert Stephens later said Councilmember Ralph Doetsch had removed himself from the vote because he owns rental property that would be affected by a rent ordinance.

MAYOR RUSTY Hammer said that "in all practicality, the options are closed to us before June 3." The council's schedule is already tighter than usual because of budget hearings, he said.

The emergency ordinance before the council would have frozen rents at their Feb. 21, 1980, level until June 30. Another draft ordinance had been prepared as well, one which would have set up a mediation board of landlords, tenants and neutral individuals.

City Attorney Bob Dempster said a regular ordinance would go into effect after the June election since the council has to take two votes two weeks apart on a standard ordinance and then it doesn't become law until after 30 days.

Because no vote was possible, most comments from the audience were for adjourning. Said one audience member, "Just a lot of pros and cons is going to be a waste of time."

The council agreed and the meeting was over after 20 minutes.

AFTERWARDS, Stephens said waiting for Chamberlin to return wouldn't give the council enough time to get a rent ordinance passed before June 3. The council's options now are to wait until the results are in on Proposition 10 and then possibly put the matter on the November ballot, he said.

The proposed emergency ordinances came out of a rent control subcommittee that was revived recently after angry tenants complained to the council about six weeks ago about steep rent increases.

San Tomas Park area group wants to annex to Campbell

By PAT SAFFORD

A NEIGHBORHOOD group is being formed in the San Tomas Park area of San Jose, and one of their first goals is to try to annex to the city of Campbell.

Flyers were distributed in the area last weekend announcing the first meeting of the fledgling group on Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of San Tomas Park.

The first three goals of the San Tomas Park Neighborhood Association, STOP for short, is to "work to annex into Campbell, work on traffic problems and produce a newsletter to keep members informed . . .," according to the flyer.

The San Tomas Park area is bordered on the north by Campbell Avenue, on the south by San Tomas Creek, on the east by the Campbell city limits and past the Bucknall School area on the west.

Other issues the new group plans to discuss are traffic, crime, public safety services, the fate of the Bucknall School site, problems at San Tomas Park and neighborhood appearance.

RIGHT NOW the San Jose Police Department serves the entire San Tomas Park area, while Campbell Fire Department paramedics serve part of the area through an auto aid agreement with San Jose.

People living near San Tomas Park have been concerned for some time about that park being used as a nighttime hangout by local youth. Last year, after a meeting with representatives of the San Jose Police Department, more patrols of the park were instituted and several minors were cited for possession of alcohol.

Part of the area, known as the Cherry Lane Annex, was the object of a court fight between Campbell and San Jose in the 1950s. Most of the property then was orchard land and San Jose successfully annexed it even though it was within Campbell's sphere of influence (the usual indicator of which city an unincorporated area will eventually join).

The dispute went all the way to the state Supreme Court where Campbell won the decision — but lost the land. The legal opinion was that, even though Campbell was right, it would serve no purpose to change the city boundaries at that point.

Since then, as the orchard land was turned into subdivisions, residents have raised the issue of changing cities several times.

The stumbling block has always been the complicated deannexation procedure required that calls for an election in both cities to ratify a boundary change.

Up to last year San Jose has always opposed any deannexation bids. But in 1979 a sizeable area west of Lawrence Expressway was successfully deannexed from San Jose into Cupertino.

Bring boxes, wagons or carts to district's book giveaway

The Campbell Union School District advises bringing boxes, wagons or carts to a giveaway of unused or obsolete textbooks May 9 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Moorpark School Cafetorium.

Most of the books are in good condition, and they cover all subjects. They're no longer being used because of state regulation or overprinting.

Moorpark School is at the corner of Thornton Way and Moorpark Avenue in San Jose. The cafetorium is at the back (south wing) of the school near a playground gate. Parking near the building will be available for easy loading.

Our readers write

Thanks to all for the excellent Career Exploration Day here

EDITOR:

AS A PARENT of a student who recently participated in the Career Exploration Day, I wish to acknowledge and thank the committee for offering such an excellent program to our youths.

Through the cooperation of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and Campbell High School, the students were guests of Chamber of Commerce members for a day of career exploration, luncheon and the opportunity to meet the leaders of our business community. Students were asked to select the first, second and third choice of careers ranging from accounting through welding and were chosen based on the availability of career choices after the respective applicant met the following criteria of sincerity, maturity and interest in his or her selection.

Our daughter, who chose medical and health as a possible career, was given a tour of O'Connor Hospital, where she was free to ask any question and given constructive information as to the academic requirements needed in pursuing a career in medicine.

A community can be proud of its citizens when individuals are able to take the time to show their future leaders that they care enough to guide an inquiring mind and encourage the young to meet his or her potential.

Why won't council stick by rent control decision?

I SAT through most of the rent control hearing April 23 with a growing sense of wonder, anger and even fear.

I'm a landlord. I'm also an eight-year resident of Campbell, living in an apartment in one of the three fourplexes we own here; my mother lives in another unit. I'm also a taxpayer and voter — one of the old-fashioned kind who read the small print, make a judgment and vote on it — not caring a damn that my vote may not change a thing for the better, it's just the best I can do.

I went to the hearing to find out what all the shouting was about.

After all, following a four-month study by your first rent control task force, headed by Norman Paul, you concluded, as your task force did, that Campbell's citizens did not need rent control.

That was February 21 — just two months ago.

Among the persuasive evidence then: Campbell's rents, as a whole, were lower than those in similar areas; abuse by landlords was not widespread; rent control, added to existing governmental and financial constraints on development, would discourage building new rentals to meet growing demand and maintaining what existed; complaints from tenants were relatively few — despite considerable publicity and the posting of notices of public hearings and holding them at places convenient to the rental population of the community.

Since then, I learned at the hearing, a "number" of new complaints — from tenants concentrated mainly in four large complexes, at least one of which is seeking conversion to condominiums — persuaded you to reexamine your decision against rent control, and Mayor Hammer and Councilman Podgorsek were assigned as a new task force to do so.

They held a hearing April 18, at which they said they permitted tenants to air their grievances and landlords to counter the of their options was to recommend no change, Mayor Hammer saying that he and Mr. Podgorsek had been assigned only to bring back a recommendation for change, that it was then up to the council as a whole to accept one or another of their "concepts" and carry it through, or to discard them.

Councilman Podgorsek angrily telling a landlord questioner that the function of government is to be "responsive" to citizens' "problems," and "nobody can say we're not responsive."

From the tenor and substance of what they said, I concluded that Mayor Hammer and Councilman Podgorsek had decided the fir of the earl- however e, were

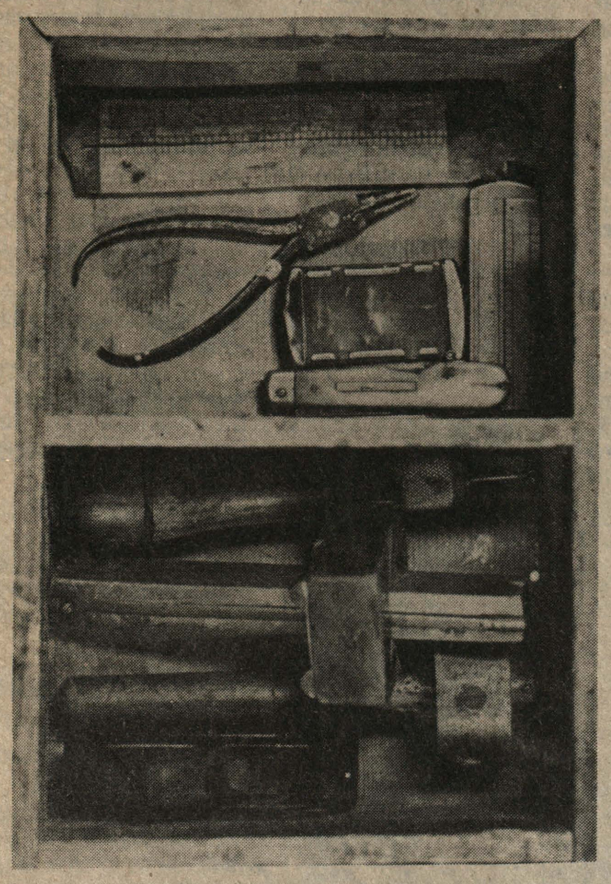
George Whitney's equipment

'Tools that built Campbell' rediscovered



CAMPBELLITE Donald Soutar donated these tools once belonging to "the builder of Campbell" to the city's museum recently.

By ANNE HOUGHTELING

THE Campbell Historical Museum received an unexpected donation recently as a result of a newspaper story about a city landmark.

A Campbell Press article on the campaign to declare the F.M. Righter House on El Patio Drive an historical site made Donald Soutar realize for the first time an old set of tools he had were noteworthy artifacts, says museum historian and curator Jeanette Watson.

The 1896 Righter House was the work of George Whitney, nicknamed "the builder of Campbell." When Campbellite Soutar read that, he learned the tool box his father James Soutar had left him was of historical value, says Watson.

JAMES Soutar, a carpenter, belonged to the same Odd Fellows Lodge as pioneer builder Whitney, Watson says Donald Soutar told her. The two men became friends and Whitney's tools passed to Soutar upon Whitney's death in 1934. When the elder Soutar died, his son Donald came into their possession.

Soutar, a 68-year-old retired businessman, walked into the museum recently with the news he might have the tools "that built Campbell."

"I couldn't believe it," Watson says. "Whitney had no heirs and I just didn't believe we'd ever get ahold of those tools."

The tools, Watson says, include several rare devices with patents dating back to the 1880s. An old brass and wood level and a ratchet screwdriver are among the unusual items.

The tool set is now on display at the museum at 70 N. Central Ave.

In addition to being a museum "angel," Soutar turned out to be a "gold mine of information" on early Campbell houses, Watson says. A longtime Campbell resident and an amateur carpenter, Soutar has been able to provide some new details on city structures, she says.

The Historical Preservation Board has filed an application requesting the Righter House be designated an historical landmark.

Check out your blood pressure

O'Connor Hospital at Campbell offers a free blood pressure clinic to any person visiting the Emergency Care Center at O'Connor between 7 a.m. and 11 p.m. any day of the week.

The clinic is part of efforts by the hospital, located at 1650 Winchester Blvd. at Hamilton, to prevent strokes.

One warning sign the hospital points out is called a "transient ischemic attack" or TIA. Symptoms, which may occur and disappear within 24 hours, include transient blurring or dimming of vision or total blindness, a sudden inability to recognize written or spoken words, a tingling around the mouth or a loss of movement in an arm or leg. Particularly significant is a combination of these signs on one side of the body.

One of these signs may not mean much, but if more than one occurs, a physician should be contacted promptly.

For more information, call the hospital at 866-9000.

ACCIDENTAL POISONING

Poisoning is one of the most common household accidents — especially in homes where there are small children. The five kinds of poisons most commonly ingested are pesticides, medications, alkalis and acids, petroleum products, and poisonous plants.

Vomiting should NEVER be induced if petroleum products (paint thinner, turpentine, furniture polish or shoe polish, gasoline, or the like) have been swallowed.

In the case of alkalis or acids, the mouth and esophagus are burned when the poison is swallowed. If vomiting is induced, the person will be burned a second time as the alkali is expelled. In the case of petroleum products, vomiting may lead to inhalation of the poison, which could result in chemical pneumonia.

Give one-half glass of water or milk to a person who has swallowed a poison, unless he is unconscious or having convulsions. Next decide whether or not to induce vomiting. Examine the victim's mouth for burns before vomiting is induced.

If the poisoning has been caused by a pesticide, medication, or poisonous plant, vomiting may be induced by putting one's finger into the back of the victim's throat or by the use of syrup of ipecac.

Children should be given about one teaspoonful of syrup of ipecac; adults should be given two tablespoonsful. Vomiting will occur within 20 to 30 minutes.

Contact your family physician or a hospital emergency department for further instructions. A poison control center may recommend specific antidotes.

This is the second in a series of first aid articles provided through the cooperation of the Emergency Care Center of O'Connor Hospital at Campbell on 1650 Winchester Boulevard near Hamilton Avenue.

It'll take an extra dime to ride on county buses now

COUNTY BUS riders will be paying a dime more to ride as of June 15 and express commuters an additional quarter under a new bus fare schedule adopted last week by the county Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors raised the basic 25-cent daily fare to 35 cents as a compromise from the county Transportation Commission recommendation that fare rates be doubled to 50 cents. Commuters who take the express bus now pay 50 cents and under the new system will pay 75 cents for the trip. The monthly pass books for express commuters was raised from $20 to $25, and for the basic fare from $10 to $12.

Supervisors, who also act as the governing body of the county Transit District, froze bus fares for senior citizens, youths, handicapped people and uniformed officers. They voted to lower the age ceiling for the elderly from 65 to 62 in view of the fact that people are now retiring earlier.

Seniors now ride for free at off-peak hours and pay 10 cents for travelling during the commuter rush hours. About 30 senior citizens appeared at the hearing to protest any changes in the bus fares.

THE BOARD'S actions were criticized by Transportation Commissioner Roy Lave, who said the supervisors' failure to impose substantial new increases means "we are condemning ourselves to an eternally poor transit service."

Lave said that the district will have trouble in the future paying for more buses and increased service, and he feels the county won't convince voters to come up with another half-cent on the sales tax to pay for expanded service.

The vote on the hike was 3 to 2. The no votes were cast by board Chairman Dan McCorquodale and Transit District Chairman Dominic Cortese.

McCorquodale said he thought any fare increase was premature and, referring to the district's $45 million surplus, he said the county should go to the citizens for more money when they need it. However, the commission, which recommended the fare hike be doubled, explained that the surplus will be used up in three to four years when the county's bus fleet is expanded. The county's goal is to have 750 buses on the road by 1982.

In 1978 the board set a fare hike schedule which called for a 10-cent increase when bus service was improved. In effect, the board merely reaffirmed what it intended to do two years ago.

Spend a nickel —for a bus ride

THE Santa Clara County Transit District is encouraging its riders to save gasoline on weekends with a major promotional program designed to get more people riding the bus on weekends in the South Bay.

Transit District spokeswoman Jan Wessell said, "'Catch our Spirit' is our slogan," because the district wants "to share with the public its enthusiasm for providing a good service" in Santa Clara County.

As part of the promotion, the Transit District has designated May 10 and 11 as County Transit Nickel Days to let people "ride anywhere in the county for five cents a ride, countywide," Wessell said.

Senior citizens and the handicapped will still be able to ride the bus for free, as usual, during the Nickel Days weekend promotion, Wessell said.

Wessell says more people should "get out of the automobile and onto the bus during weekends and non-commute hours" to go shopping, to the movies, to the park, and to other recreational activities and "avoid the hassles" of rush-hour traffic.

IF YOU HEARD the county wasn't collecting the 240,000 parking tickets issued for the past three years, you heard right, but you may not have heard that 24 county workers in their own office are digging into that backlog, sending out a delinquent notice charging non-payers $5. If that isn't paid, the DMV will hold up car registrations until they are. The municipal courts had been collecting them but they say they've been short-staffed and haven't had the time, and they aren't required to colelct them anyway, having taken on the duty from the old police courts for lack of a better agency to do it. Collection of the $2 million in fines should be done within a month, say county officials, as well as negotiations with individual cities over who will collect the fines in the future.

Parents invited to program on drug use among teenagers

Parents of upper elementary and junior high school youngsters are invited to a program focusing on teen drug use May 22 at 7:30 p.m. at Campbell Junior High School, 295 Cherry Lane.

The program, entitled "An Evening on Teen Parenting," is the first in a series to be given by Parents Who Care, a neighborhood volunteer group. Spokeswoman for the group, Elaine Moss, says its goal is to "create a healthy atmosphere in which the use of drugs and alcohol is no longer considered the norm."

At the group's May 22 program, the TV documentary "Reading, Writing and Reefers" will be shown. Moss says the film is highly recommended by the National Education Association.

Since the program is meant to help parents share their experiences, students are not invited, Moss says. Further information on the program or on Parents Who Care can be obtained by calling 288-6751 or 269-4807.

Mark Romo works 'like athlete'

Ballet company attracted to student's 'star quality'

"INCREDIBLE . . . like flying," says 17-year-old West Valley College ballet student Mark Romo.

He's talking about the Baryshnikov-like leaps he does, which along with his other dance talents has prompted the San Francisco Ballet Company to invite him to attend a six-week summer session at its prestigious school where promising students are groomed to join the company onstage.

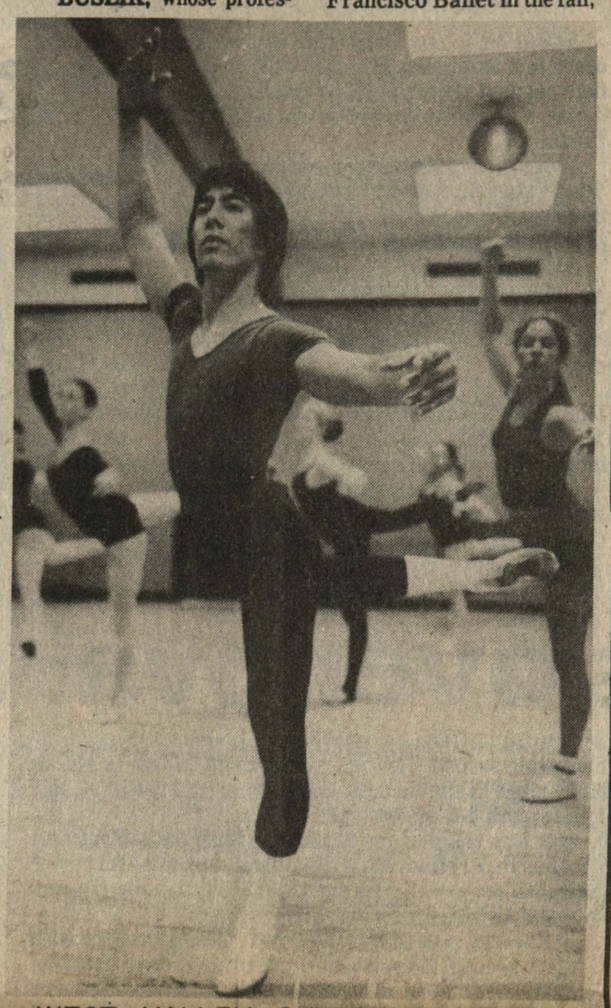
Romo has worked with West Valley instructor Gloria Mohr Buslik for a year and a half preparing for the audition at the San Francisco Ballet, both at West Valley and at a private school Buslik operates.

BUSLIK, whose professional name is Vauges, says Romo has "star quality," but Romo has been working more like an athlete than a star, doing bar work, leaps and arabesques six days a week in addition to practicing yoga for the past three years.

Although he says, "I just couldn't picture my father saying, 'My son, the ballet dancer,' " Romo says his parents and two older brothers support him. Besides, he says, "I figured there would be more girls in ballet than in tennis."

"When a lot of people ask me what I'm studying and I say, 'I'm a dancer,' they think I'm a disco dancer."

Hoping for a full-time scholarship from the San Francisco Ballet in the fall, he hopes to follow in the dance steps of his favorite dancers, Mikhail Baryshnikov and Fernando Bujones of the American Ballet Theater.



WEST VALLEY College ballet student Mark Romo recently won a summer scholarship to the San Francisco Ballet.

Sophs spark Campbell

Buc youngsters play key roles in three victories

A BALLCLUB in the thick of a heated pennant race usually turns to its grizzled veterans to carry it during its stretch run. But not the Campbell Buccaneers.

The Bucs are relying on a quartet of sophomores to aid in their pennant drive. And so far, they haven't let the Bucs down.

Rich Alvarez and Bobby Straight, two sophomores who have been with the big club all season long, combined with John Murphy and Bill Roberts, two second year players just called up to the varsity last week, to lead Campbell to three straight wins, putting the Bucs right back on the heels of the league-leading Blackford Braves.

Alvarez, whose pitching has heated up along with the West Valley Athletic League pennant race, continued his recent resurgence on the mound Monday by pitching the Bucs to a 7-1 victory over long-time rival Leigh high school.

The hard-throwing righthander scattered seven hits and struck out four to level his league record at 2-2 and lower his earned run average to a sparkling 1.81.

Campbell's other three starting sophomores also played key roles in the victory.

STRAIGHT, the Bucs' fine shortstop, drove in Campbell's first run with an infield out and then singled in another run during a decisive six-run outburst in the fourth.

Roberts, also singled in a run during the Bucs' six-run fourth, in addition to throwing out a Longhorn runner at the plate from rightfield.

Although Murphy was held hitless for the first time since being called up to the varsity, he did score a run in Campbell's big rally after reaching first safely on an error.

After four games with the varsity, Murphy was hitting a cool .455 (five-for-11), proving his .450-plus batting average for the frosh-soph this season was no fluke.

Roberts, meanwhile, raised his average to .400 (two-for-five) as a part-timer for the varsity after hitting well over .400 for the Bucs' frosh-soph team.

"They've definitely been real contributors," Campbell head coach Gordon Huntze said in praise of the Bucs' late-season additions.

Murphy and Roberts began contributing to the Bucs' pennant drive almost immediately last week, delivering important hits in a 6-0 whitewashing of the Branham Bruins last Thursday.

MURPHY drove in two runs with a triple and a single, and Roberts chipped in with his first varsity hit, a single, to spark the Bucs' seven-hit attack.

The Bucs didn't need much hitting that day, however, because of a stellar pitching performance by junior righthander Doug Shaddox.

Shaddox notched his first win of the WVAL season and needed only 53 pitches to do it, silencing the Bruins on one hit.

Only a one out triple by Rich Estes in the fifth prevented Shaddox from hurling a no-hitter.

The Buccaneer junior walked no one, hit one and struck out four.

"He did a heckuva job," praised Huntze. "He had good control of his pitches and made them hit the ball."

Only three balls hit by the Bruins reached the Campbell outfield.

Earlier in the week, Campbell trounced arch-rival Los Gatos 9-1 in a critical encounter at Campbell high.

"It was a must win for us," said Huntze after the game. "Not only Jeff (Melrose), but the whole team rose to the occasion."

MELROSE, improving his record to 4-0, stopped the talented Wildcats on just five hits, walking three and fanning three. He lowered his WVAL earned run average to a microscopic 0.66.

Campbell jumped on Los Gatos for five runs in the very first inning, a two-run single by Murphy highlighting the outburst.

Murphy went two-for-two in the victory.

Alvarez contributed a two-run single in the fourth and Straight scored a pair of runs to also aid in the win.

Junior Paul Sargis chipped in with a bases loaded walk and an RBI single.

Campbell and the rest of the WVAL continued to chase the surprising Blackford Braves, who relied on their bats to post impressive wins over Prospect and Westmont last week.

THE BRAVES, who raised their record to 8-3 with their two wins last week, pounded out 15 hits in a 10-3 conquest of Prospect and then drilled 16 more hits in a 16-4 rout of Westmont.

The Warriors, who committed 10 errors in their dismal loss to the Braves, had beaten Del Mar 2-1 earlier in the week on a four-hitter tossed by Harry Davis, who notched his second win in three league decisions.

Rich Riel took the tough loss for Del Mar despite hurling an equally brilliant four-hitter.

Del Mar bounced back to beat the Camden Cougars 5-1 last Thursday on a three-hit masterpiece by Scott MacAdams.

John Wingender drilled two hits and Vince Bertolacci smacked a triple to spark the Dons at the plate.

Prospect rebounded from its humbling loss at the hands of the Blackford Braves to deal Los Gatos a costly 3-2 setback Monday.

Dave Johnson ripped three hits and Eric Crawford slapped two to support the fine five-hit pitching of Jim Harrigan. Harrigan improved his record to 4-1 with the triumph.

Calm falls over oval as drivers rest up

THINGS WERE calm last Saturday night around the dirt track at the San Jose Fairgrounds Speedway as the super modified and stock car drivers enjoyed the first of three nights off in May.

But it certainly was anything but calm a week earlier when the drivers in each division battled it out with fast performances in April's final show.

Brent Kaeding and Larry Jackson rolled to feature wins in the modified and stock car races at the Speedway and others turned in strong performances to jumble the 1980 point standings.

John Viel held onto his modified point lead with a third place finish in the feature race but has to keep a watchful eye over his shoulder as the young Kaeding is just 12 points behind.

And in the stock car show, Ray Morgan finished second in the main event to pull ahead of Dave Byrd who has been the San Jose leader since opening night.

Drivers will get a chance to rest up and work on their machines for the next few weeks as NASCAR takes its first of three 1980 breaks. The cars will return to action on May 24 for a complete double-header show before the modifieds get together a week later for the first annual Lloyd Beard Memorial championship race.

SIX MORE drivers qualified for the Beard field in April's final show. Jerry Freitas of San Jose, Bob Bakeman of San Jose, Rich Styles, Ed Hopper of San Jose, Howard Kaeding of Campbell and Americo Guglielmo each finished high enough to qualify for the Beard Memorial, bringing the total number of qualifiers to 18.

Six more qualifiers will come out of the May 24 show at the Speedway and the final two spots will be up for grabs in the May 31 semi-main.

B. Kaeding of Campbell posted his third main event win of the year the same night with Nick Rescino of Sunnyvale second. Rescino, who was the fastest qualifier of the night in the record-breaking time of 14.657, led the feature race for seven laps.

Viel was third in the main with Mike Sargent of San Jose fourth, Freitas fifth, Bakeman sixth, Scott Murray of Campbell seventh, Styles eighth, Joe Bailey ninth, Hopper 10th and H. Kaeding 11th.

B Kaeding won the trophy dash the same night with Sargent second, Rescino third and H. Kaeding fourth.

Andy Taylor of San Jose won the first heat with Jerry Robertson of San Jose second and Dan Smith third and Dave Taber of San Jose won the second heat with Jamie Hood second and Neal Larrarino of San Jose third.

DARRELL DUDLEY won the third heat with B. Kaeding second and H. Kaeding third before Sargent set a new record in the fourth heat.

Sargent covered the six-lap distance in 1:37.57 to break the record of 1:37.67 he had set a week earlier. Skip Beard of San Jose was second in the heat with Nick Ringo of San Jose third.

Beard came back to post his first-ever NASCAR victory with a first place finish in the semi-main event. Smith was second with Larry Schlee third, Duane Larson of San Jose fourth and Robertson fifth.

In a special consolation race, Hood finished first with Russell Luhdorff of San Jose second and Roger Fodsdick jr. third.

Earl Kelley, the winner of the last ever feature race at the old San Jose Speedway, and Mike Parker both ran for the first time in 1980 that night.

Viel heads the modified point standings at 141 with B. Kaeding second at 129. Rescino is third at 122 with Sargent fourth at 113, Bailey fifth at 89, H. Kaeding sixth at 69, Nick Foster seventh at 56, Freitas eighth at 54, Ringo ninth at 49 and Bakeman 10th at 46.

MORGAN MOVED into the point lead in the stock car division with his strong performance the same night.

Morgan leads the San Jose pack with 132 points and Byrd of Los Gatos is a close second at 125. John Keldsen is third at 103 with Bob Benge fourth at 83, Joe Esperanca of San Jose fifth at 77, Vern Anderson of Campbell sixth at 70, Jeff Barron of Los Gatos seventh at 64, Ed Sans eighth at 61 and Felix DeLeon of San Jose and Scott Williamson tied for ninth at 55.

Morgan was the fast qualifier at 18.158 and was second in the feature race to move into the points lead.

Byrd won the third heat race with DeLeon second and Keldsen third but then crashed in the feature race to drop to second in the points standings.

Baldwin sisters leads Padres to Campbell Sox win over Reds

IF THE Paul & Dino Reds harbored any hopes of going this season without a loss, they were ended recently by the Taco La Paz Padres.

The Padres, behind the brilliant two-hit pitching of Lisa Baldwin, handed the previously unbeaten Reds a 4-1 defeat in Campbell Bobby Sox League action.

Baldwin and his sister, Traci, collected two hits apiece to pace the Padre attack. Teresa Maria contributed one hit to the win.

Colleen Kelly flipped a six-hitter to hurl the Len's Golden Crust Pizza Phillies to an 8-2 triumph over the Straw Hat Pizza Giants.

Kelly aided her own cause at the plate by belting a triple and two singles.

Laura Sonora and Maria Sherrin chipped in with three hits each, also. Sherrin had a triple among her three hits while Sonora had a double.

Carole Martin and Leticia Cruz both chipped in with two baggers. Janine Alameda added two singles.

In the minors, the Wheel-A-Way Tigers defeated the Angels 8-1 behind the one-hit pitching of Marta Mortenson.

LORI Hughes rapped two hits to pace the Tiger attack. Michelle Carl, Rita Alam, Anita Prizzi and Vicki Walker contributed one hit apiece.

The Tigers also posted a 15-2 triumph over the Twins. Alam recorded the win.

Hughes collected two more hits and both Alam and Mortenson added one to spark the Tigers at the plate.

Bonnie Jones and Suzanne Carlson both singled for the Gold Dust Custom Jewelry Twins.

The Allied Electric Orioles outslugged the Twins 15-9 in an earlier game.

Winning pitcher Dana Lucky belted a three-run homer and Carlson clubbed a triple for the Twins in a losing cause.

Jones and Carlson both had two hits.

Togo's of Campbell rolls to tourney championship

TOGO'S OF Campbell rolled past the JTR Rats 17-4 recently to win the San Thomas Activists slow pitch softball tournament at John D. Morgan Park in Campbell.

The 12-team double-elimination tournament was a fund raising event for a community center servicing the Campbell-Saratoga area.

Togo's, led by the clutch hitting of Jim Walsh, Steve Canady and Tim Carver, slipped past Arthur Young and Company of San Jose 2-0 to make the finals. Togo's had beaten the Rats 12-1 earlier in the tournament.

The Rats defeated Any Mountain of Cupertino 8-5 and Arthur Young and Company 10-9 in 11 innings to gain its championship berth.

Canady went three for three with a home run

Canady went seven for eight.

The competition raised more than $700 for the community center, which will use the funds for staff and programs.

Organizing the tournament were San Thomas Ac- while Carver went two for two with a homer for Togo's. Walsh had two hits including a double in the championship game.

The Rats were paced by Dave Kamachi and Jim Toaka. Overall, Kamachi had five hits with a double and home run and Toaka collected four hits with a double and homer.

Walsh was the tournament's top hitter, getting seven hits in nine at bats. He had three doubles and one homer. Teammate

Policemen and firefighters from throughout California climbed into a wide assortment of cars April 27 and proceeded to run into each other — all in fun.

The occasion was the third annual California Police-Firefighters Destruction Derby, held at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds. Taking top honors for keeping his car going the longest was Santa Clara Police Officer Ray Cotta. Second place went to Jim Fulton of the Stockton CHP.

Nearly $1,000 in proceeds from the event went to the Santa Clara County Crippled Children's Society and the CHP's Widows and Orphans Fund.

The only injury was suffered by Milpitas Fireman Jim Keehley, who required 15 stitches at a local hospital after being cut over one eye in one of the numerous collisions.

CLOCKWISE: A typical scene from the derby, with Bob ''Smile'' Weber from the Los Gatos P.D. (center, No. 24) deciding it was a good time to leave; Jim Keehley from the Milpitas Fire Department was just fine, despite the cut above his eye; an unidentified contestant gets out the best way he can.

With Bea Rene'

Mother's Day is little more than 70 years old, yet the nature of the holiday makes it seem as if its roots were in prehistoric times. Many antiquarians, holiday enthusiasts, and students of folklore have claimed to find the source of Mother's Day in the ancient spring festivals dedicated to the mother goddesses, particularly the worship of Cybele. Her cult was introduced into Rome some 200 years before the birth of Christ and rites were performed for three days from the ides of March. This festival was known as the Hilaria. However, the step from the worship of the feminine principle of life to the honoring of our immediate mothers is not one that was taken in Roman times. The Hilaria was a religious holiday — our Mother's Day is not.

More closely aligned to Mother's Day is "Mothering Sunday," also called Mid-Lent Sunday, observed on the fourth Sunday in Lent. Some believe that the ceremonies in honor of Cybele were adopted by the early Church for veneration of the Mother of God, Mary. Others believe that Mother Church was substituted for mother goddess and it became customary to visit the church of your baptism on this day. In England, people went on Mid-Lent Sunday to the mother church of the parish laden with their offerings.

Also in England, the custom began for young men and women apprenticed as servants, to return to their homes on Mothering Sunday, bringing with them gifts or a 'mothering cake' for their mothers. There was also much cheering and festivity appropriate to the day, the prominent dish being "furmety" which was wheat grains boiled in sweet milk, sugared and spiced. In northern England and Scotland, there was a greater leaning to steeped pease fried in butter, with pepper and salt.

No doubt the change in working and living habits brought about by the Industrial Revolution had much to do with the decline of Mothering Sunday in England. However, interest in the day was revived, and it is once again an established holiday. Some people are of the opinion that the great popularity of Mother's Day in the U.S. resulted in a new lease on life for Mothering Sunday.

Anna M. Jarvis, (May 1, 1864-Nov. 24, 1948) was the originator of our modern Mother's Day. She remained a spinster throughout her life and was extremely attached to her mother. After her mother died in 1905, Anna Jarvis discussed with friends her intention of starting a Mother's Day; she was very concerned about the neglectful treatment of mothers by adult children.

The first Mother's Day observance was in a church service held at Anna Jarvis' request on May 10, 1908. Miss Jarvis supplied the carnations, which have become such a familiar part of Mother's Day. They were chosen because of her mother's fondness for them. Red carnations became the symbol of a living mother while white ones were worn as a sign that one's mother had died.

The first Mother's Day proclamation was issued by the governor of West Va. in 1910, followed shortly thereafter by all the states throughout the Union and also in Mexico, Canada, South America, China, Japan and Africa. Since then it has been adopted as a resolution providing that the second Sunday in May be designated as Mother's Day, and on May 9, 1915, President Woodrow Wilson made Mother's Day an official American holiday.

Isn't it ironic that the woman who had such a hand in establishing Mother's Day was never herself to be a mother?

Today, Mother's Day is a popular occasion, warm and joyful in spirit. Flowers and gifts are often the order of the day. Also it is a time to squire Mother to her favorite restaurant — it is well known that this is the busiest day of the year for all restaurants — here on the Peninsula, I would like to suggest several good restaurants for this special occasion:

Introducing Magnifico
The Acapulco Restaurants introduce great, yet inexpensive Mexican dining to San Jose and Santa Clara. The reason is their Executive Chef, the one and only Ramon. Whether it's Camarones Zacatecas, a rare shrimp delicacy, or Enchiladas with rice and beans, Ramon has a special way with Mexican food and drink. He's been voted National Chef of the Year. Won the first Gold Medal at the World Culinary Olympics for Mexican food. Has four Gold Seal Awards for Great Menus. A First Prize for inventing the now world famous, Crab Enchilada. And another for "Best" Margarita. The Acapulcos are Ramon's restaurants. Everything is carefully done, Ramon's way. He's created the 18 page menu, the most authentic, most imaginative, you'll ever experience. And he's given everyone who works there that tangible sense of pride and accomplishment that makes the intangible difference between very good and Magnifico.
A Get Acquainted Offer From Ramon
Come in to either Acapulco, present this coupon and enjoy a large plate of Ramon's crisp, tangy Nachos free. Buenos Nachos.

the winetaster / Beringer- celebrating a 100 years of winemaking

By MARY LESTER

There aren't many wineries in California that can claim to having been around long enough to celebrate 100 years of winemaking. Most, long ago decided to give up. Still others have changed hands so often that the founding name literally means nothing.

Such, I assure you, is not the case with Beringer Vineyards in Napa Valley. (I'll have to admit, though, that for a period of about a dozen years, the wines from Beringer were by no means in keeping with what they had been prior to the late 60's.)

Then in 1971 came a wonderous happening: Myron Nightingale, a winemaker other winemakers look to, was hired to bring Beringer Vineyards back to at least a semblance of its heyday of glorious winemaking.

Well, winemaker Nightingale, in but eight years, has fulfilled the expectations of even the most dubious or cynical consumer by producing wines that leave little doubt about his being at the pinnacle of the winemaking profession.

For the first time in 104 years of winemaking, Beringer will be releasing three Chardonnay wines. I'm excited about these wines. Although from the same 1978 vintage year, all are made in different styles. Just coming on the market is the Beringer Barrel Fermented Chardonnay made in a light style. I consider it a very nice Chardonnay and for $6.50 it is certainly a good buy. There are better Chardonnays around — provided you wish to pay three to five dollars more.

Now, as to Beringer's Napa Valley Estate Chardonnay: ah, that is something else and it will be difficult to find any Chardonnay from '78 to meet it in quality and very, very difficult to exceed it. A marvelous wine; on the heavy style and has lots of oomph in taste and body.

Olga knows / Time to flex new muscle, steal new heart, Aries

May 10 through May 16

ARIES (March 21 - April 19): Moon sambas into your sign on first day (the 10th) and high cycle begins. New Moon (the 14th) is ideal time to launch new plan, flex new muscle, steal new heart. Maybe all three!

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20): Very important week for you, Taurus, as your planet Venus enters emotional Cancer (the 12th) highlighting love, family connections, money, children and power. On same day, Moon enters your sign and high cycle begins. Communication favored. If you'll just give a hoot, Taurus, loved one will give a holler. Maybe even more!

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Energy builds and as Moon enters your sign (the 14th) high cycle begins. You can make time, make headway, make tracks. Mercury (your planet) enters your sign on last day and dialogue with partner favored. Just crack open a bottle of May wine, Gem, and start talking.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Venus (planet of love, romance, sex) enters your sign this week and emotions likely to run rampant. True affection is present, Moonbaby, but you must fight urge to be overly protective or demanding. New Moon (the 14th) features new resolve.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Career matters featured. Control temptation to enter into brouhaha with local pinhead. New Moon (the 14th) can mean new opportunity, new understanding. Week of promise ends with a pinch.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Venus sashays into sentimental Cancer (the 12th) and you emerge from low cycle. New Moon (the 14th) features new insight, new resolve. On last day your planet (Mercury) spins into gabby Gemini and long-blocked line of communication opens up. Celebrate!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Cycle low. Venus (your planet) slinks into moody Cancer (the 12th) and old ghost returns to haunt. To protect that which you hold most dear, Libra, you may have to build a fence of pointed little warnings. Message clears.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): After contentious start, Venus cruises into cantankerous Cancer (the 12th) and low cycle begins in earnest. Lower voice, profile and expectations. However, on last day you come out of the shadows, Scorp, and sally forth into the May sunshine. Week ends with a hug.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Restraint mandatory during first part of week, Saj, as wires, words and currents cross. Moon enters Gemini (the 14th) and low cycle begins. Lower your keys.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Affectionate Venus sways into emotional Cancer (your astro opposite) and affair of heart apt to be featured. Romantic interlude now can lighten your way, your load and your spirit, Cap. Go for it!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Desire strong to live life 'to the max.' Slow down, Aquari, or like the moth which circles the flame, you run risk of scorching your fragile wings. You will understand.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Confide in partner, mate concerning personal worry. It's not nearly as late as you may think, Pisces. Week highlighting travel, communication, emotional drama ends on key of G for grow, grass, greenhorn and grateful.

How about alcohol instead of gasoline?

By SLIM INGHAM

Consumers United has provided me with valuable technical information in the past and I would like your input on the use of alcohol as a replacement fuel for gasoline. I feel that your answers would be of great public service since the material I've been exposed to so far has been contradictory and inadequate. Incidentally, what accounts for your organization's technical expertise?

Carson Sanford, Cupertino

The positive side of alcohol as a fuel is that it has a high octane rating and can be used in high compression engines that deliver a bit more efficiency. Gasohol (10 to 15 percent alcohol with gasoline) can be used with any car on the road without modification. This mixture will probably m "e your car run a bit better because of its octane increase but you will suffer a slight loss in mileage because of the Mom w/enjoy the great Northern Chinese cuisine prepared by Chef Chu & his many exec. chefs & especially enjoyable is watching them prepare this food thru the glass windows lining the kitchen. Don't forget there's a dining room downstairs & the 9 Dragon Dining Room upstairs is also available — plus private party rooms. I suggest you phone now for an early reservation.

Here's a great idea for Mother's Day! Most ladies I know are on some type of diet — whether it be for weight, health reasons or simply because it's a fad. That is why seafood dishes are so popular. I'll bet Mom would adore a beautiful fresh fish dinner at THE FISH MARKET restaurant . . . this is without a doubt one of the most popular fish restaurants in the entire bay area. One location is in Palo Alto (3150 El Camino Real), and the second is in Santa Clara (3775 El Camino Real). Both serve the same menu and have a fresh fish market in the foyer. However, the Santa Clara restaurant boasts of a bar/lounge and a great Oyster Bar. So here's one to put on your list of choices Mom can make.

The GOLD CREEK MINE CO. is so unique — the decor is outstandingly different — just like an old mine interior. For Mom's Day, choose from two dinner prices as follows: $6.95 — BBqued Ribs, Seafood Crepes, Fisherman's Platter, Teriyaki Chicken Breasts; For $8.95 — choose Petite New York Steak, Crab Legs, Stuffed Prawns, Veal Cordon Bleu, Prime Rib. Dinners incl. Strawberry dacquiri or glass of wine plus chocolate mousse dessert. Reservations at 446-2020. Open from 4-9 p.m. For a truly memorable occasion, here's one to check out.

PRIME RIB INN always attracts a lg. & happy throng of patrons on Mother's Day & this year w/be no exception, according to genial Mgr. Eddy Marakas. "The phone has been ringing off the hook all week w/people phoning in advance reservations for our annual Mother's Day feast," says Eddy. The INN w/be featuring a spec. holiday dinner menu on Mother's Day w/a broad range of entrees to suit every taste. "Dinners are priced from just $7.45 & guests can choose from entrees such as filet of sole meuniere, veal scallopine & our famous prime ribs," Eddy adds. The doors w/open at 4 p.m. & there'll be gorgeous, complimentary flowers for all mothers.

Eating In with Better Homes and Gardens®

Tired of the same old apple or cherry pie? Find bakery pies too expensive? Open up a copy of Better Homes and Gardens® "All-Time Favorite Pies"© cook book and you'll find some pies you've never heard of. Try the following recipes and you'll be baking a different pie every week.

RED RASPBERRY-GRAPE PIE

Pastry for Double-Crust Pie (see recipe, page 87)
1 16-ounce can light seedless grapes, drained
⅔ cup sugar
⅓ cup all-purpose flour
2 10-ounce packages frozen red raspberries, thawed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Prepare and roll out pastry. Line a 9-inch pie plate with half of the pastry; trim pastry ½ inch beyond edge of pie plate. Halve grapes. In mixing bowl stir together sugar and flour; stir in raspberries with syrup and grapes. Fill pastry-lined pie plate with fruit mixture. Dot with butter. Cut slits in top crust for escape of steam; place atop filling. Seal and flute edge. To prevent overbrowning, cover edge of pie with foil. Bake in 375° oven for 25 minutes. Remove foil; bake for 20 to 25 minutes more or till golden. Cool on rack.

DEEP-DISH PLUM PIE

¾ cup packed brown sugar
2 teaspoons quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
Dash ground nutmeg
5 cups halved pitted fresh purple plums (2 pounds)
1 tablespoon butter
Pastry for Single-Crust Pie (see recipe, page 84)
Vanilla ice cream or light cream

In a large mixing bowl combine the brown sugar, tapioca, cinnamon, nutmeg, and dash salt. Stir in plums. Let stand 15 minutes. Turn mixture into an 8x1½-inch round baking dish. Dot with butter. Prepare and roll out pastry to a 9-inch circle. Cut slits for escape of steam. Place over plum filling. Trim pastry; flute to side of dish but not over edge. If desired, garnish top of pie with pastry cutouts made from pastry trimmings. To prevent overbrowning, cover edge of pie with foil. Bake in 375° oven for 20 minutes. Remove foil; bake for 20 to 25 minutes longer or till crust is golden. Serve pie warm in dessert dishes; serve with ice cream or light cream.

lack of energy (comparative) in the alcohol component of the fuel. Alcohol's ability to absorb any moisture in the fuel is another positive factor that will liberate your car from "water in the gas" problems.

Any vehicle that is modified to run on straight alcohol will require 40 percent more fuel (by volume) than the gasoline powered car. The energy content of alcohol is about 40 percent lower than gasoline and this means, at current prices, you would pay about 70 percent more for fuel, if you used straight alcohol than you currently pay for gasoline. Assuming a government mandated program to produce alcohol as a fuel, with the non intervention of the oil companies as a control factor, we could (within 4 years) have a renewable fuel complex producing at the 90 cents per gallon level. The oil companies exert a significant measure of control over our governmental processes and will probably continue to exercise control over any — repeat, any sources of fuel available to the American public.

To date the letters received by Consumers United from the public relations people representing Mobil, Shell et al, have been evasive and obfuscating regarding their policies and intent to supply our needs (at affordable prices) for fuel from a renewable source.

Our technical expertise comes from a rather large group of scientists and engineers in various fields and disciplines.

I'm a recent divorcee with less than half the former income that we used to live on. We used to use bottled water for all drinking and cooking purposes at the insistent of my ex. He was a health food freak and frequently stated that tap water was full of chlorine and fluorides and would probably kill us. I can't afford bottled water any more — are there any health hazards in tap water?

Martha Donovan, Palo Alto

You can drown in it. The water in the Peninsula area is good stuff. The chlorine is necessary for control of the miniscule nasties that would otherwise propagate in the distribution system and sicken or kill you. The fluoride component gives us healthy teeth and is a natural component in many areas. It's an additive in ours. A very few are sensitive to tap water additives and must use bottled or distilled water.

Prop. 2: $750 million bond act

Reprinted by permission of the League of Women Voters of California from its "Pros and Cons" publication of June 1980. This information has been compiled by the league; the arguments for and against the ballot measures are not necessarily those of the league, but were supplied by proponents and opponents.

EDITOR'S NOTE: What follows is the continuation of our series of analyses of state ballot issues to be decided by voters June 3. They are provided by the League of Women Voters. This week we look at Proposition 2: Veterans Bond Act of 1980.

THE SITUATION

Since 1921 California has assisted its war veterans by providing low-cost loans to help them finance the purchase or improvement of homes and farms.

Funds for this Farm and Home Purchase Program (Cal-Vet) are raised through the sale of general obligation bonds. The bonds funds are used by the state to acquire property which the veteran wishes to buy. The state resells the property to the veteran and makes a low-interest installment loan. Payments on the loans furnish the money with which the state pays off the bonds with interest, repays the money used to purchase the property, and pays the cost of operating the program. Since it's beginning, the Cal-Vet Program has been entirely self-supporting.

The last veterans bond act was passed in 1978. According to the Department of Veterans Affairs, there is a back-log of loan applications.

THE PROPOSAL

This bond measure would authorize the state to issue $750 million in general obligation bonds to continue the Cal-Vet Program.

THE QUESTION

Should the state issue $750 million in general obligation bonds to continue the Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Program?

PROPONENTS SAY

1. With no cost to taxpayers, California can give recognition for wartime service by allowing veterans to get low-interest loans to buy homes and farms.
2. The Cal-Vet Program has always been totally self-supporting. If the veterans' loan payments do not cover bond repayment and operating costs, the interest rates on the loans can be raised.
3. California taxpayers benefit from the Cal-Vet Program. A healthy housing industry generates jobs and helps the entire economy.

OPPONENTS SAY

1. The Cal-Vet Program is not restricted to veterans who have risked their lives for our country. Any qualified veteran who served in any capacity in wartime is eligible for a subsidized loan.
2. Although to date no costs have had to be paid directly through taxes, these are general obligation bonds to which the credit of the state is pledged. If sufficient funds were not received through veterans' payments, the taxpayers would be liable for the difference.
3. California should not operate a program that largely duplicates federal programs. Veterans from all 50 states may apply to the federal Veterans Administration for low-interest home loans.

The Chili Mamas

They call themselves the "Chili Mamas" and they can really cook. These employees of Meredith Sun Newspapers whipped up a batch of chili recently that took first place in the media division of a chili cook-off sponsored by the San Jose Mercury News and the American Lung Association. Ten teams entered. Such tasty ingredients as crushed oregano, minced garlic cloves and sugar were used in the Meredith chili. Pictured are, from left, Joella Bradley, camera technician; Gail Frey, staff artist; Debbie Goff, assistant ad service manager; Vicki Lucero, head file clerk; and classified billing clerk Vicki Stuvick. The trophy was an engraved frying pan.

The Great OUTDOORS

It's showtime for the great outdoors

THE 12TH ANNUAL George Colouris Recreation Vehicle & Boat Show will open a nine-day run, May 12, at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds.

Show hours are 5 p.m. to 10 p.m., weekdays, noon to 11 p.m., Saturdays and noon to 8 p.m., Sundays. Admission is $3 for adults, $1.50 for juniors under 16, while children under six are admitted free.

Largest of its type in Northern California, the show will feature some 300 exhibits utilizing about 300,000 square feet of the fairgrounds facilities.

Show Manager Sandra Akerlind said the exhibits will reflect the new energy-conscious era, with boat and RV manufacturers both offering more compact and lighter units.

Surprisingly, there still is a demand for the large motor homes, according to Producer George Colouris. He said the shows he has produced or observed this year emphasize both the small RVs and the luxury units, with the mid-size rigs not as popular.

"Those who buy the expensive items don't seem as concerned about the cost of fuel," Colouris said, "and we'll have some beautiful luxury RVs and boats. But, in general, manufacturers are concentrating on lighter and smaller models and they seem to hold most interest for showgoers."

THERE WILL be daily entertainment at the show, featuring The Young Life Singers, a group of singers and dancers who have appeared on national TV shows and have performed before 20 million people in the last five years.

There will be sports films and bass casting exhibitions each day during the show, with 10 tackle boxes given away daily to young boys and girls who try bass casting.

The show will feature new products and trends in all types of motor homes, trailers, campers, vans, sailboats, houseboats, power boats, as well as powered hang gliders, motorcycles, mopeds, camping, back-packing and fishing gear, RV accessories and travel and vacation exhibits.

Free discount tickets, offering a 50-cent discount on regular admission, are available in Alpha Beta Markets and Long's Drug Stores throughout Santa Clara County.

LIKE MOST manufacturers, Winnebago has emphasized compactness and less weight, for better fuel economy, in its 1980 models. The Winnebago LLT travel trailer, to be displayed at the 12th annual George Colouris RV & Boat Show, has a 7-ft 5-in exterior height, which with its aerodynamic styling is designed for improved fuel economy.

RV future is still bright

THE RECREATION vehicle industry, feeling the gasoline pinch, just like everyone else, is still looking ahead to future growth, although it may come a little bit at a time instead of the rapid increases of recent years.

Changes in materials, such as using lightweight metal frames, aerodynamic design, configuration design changes, and some downgrading to smaller sized units, will mean that it will take less gasoline to drive an RV, according to RV industry spokesmen.

RV leaders feel that people who held off buying RVs because of the gas scare are now looking and buying, crowding into the nation's RV and travel shows to see the newest models and most are finding models that fit their needs and their pocketbooks.

Although RV sales in 1979 slipped below a peak year of 1978, there were still shipments totaling 307,700 units for 1979. Retail sales for 1979 totaled nearly $3.6 billion.

The trend figures show that more and more people are back looking, and a lot are buying, and the RV industry points out that with more younger families coming along, the RV industry future could be a very bright one.

A portable home away from home

MORE AND MORE people are finding that owning an RV not only provides rest and relaxation, but saves them on tax dollars, too.

They are buying property near scenic recreation and wilderness areas and then buying an RV that fits their needs and parking it at the new property site. Thus, they have a portable home to drive to, away from their everyday bustle.

In addition, they are saving money on tax write-offs for the property while the value of the site escalates. With the RV itself acting as the vacation home, owners can take their time planning, financing and building a home on their property.

Meanwhile, they enjoy the comforts and relaxing atmosphere with the RV at a site that probably offers them boating, fishing, swimming and hiking.

So you'd rather be sailing, too...

THE USE OF natural energy, the wind, rather than nature's newest nemesis, gasoline, is one of the advantages open to those who cast their lot with sailing, fast becoming one of America's biggest pastimes.

A sailboat, sails atip, gliding through water with the whitecaps lapping at the bow, is a thrill that many landlubbers are now enjoying.

The boom in the ubiquitous bumper sticker, "I'd Rather Be Sailing," attests to that and it is one sport that is easily learned and is for the entire family.

According to Dan Hattler of Clara Clipper Sales, people have become very sailboat conscious.

HATTLER WILL have, among other boats, the Hobie Cat and the O'Day Cruiser on display at the 12th annual George Colouris RV & Boat Show, May 10-18, at the county Fairgrounds.

The O'Day Cruiser has sleeping quarters for four and a galley, and is known for its ease of sailing, according to Hattler.

The popular Hobie Cat comes in 14 to 18 foot lengths and has grace, maneuverability and speed, Hattler said.

"It is exciting to sail," he said, "and with ease of towing, ease of use and low cost of operation, it's a great sailboat for the family or for a beginner.

"You need only a good, swift wind and a handy crew. Then as soon as you hit the water with the boat, the fun is all there."

Update

Senior citizen complex

PLANS FOR the 200-unit senior citizen complex are still moving along, but slowly, according to John Burns, director of the County Housing Authority.

Final plans and specifications for the complex, which could cost up to $10 million, will be submitted to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) late this week, Burns reports.

HUD must accept the final building design and the tentative cost estimates for the project before the Housing Authority can call for bids.

If those bids come in close to the engineer's estimate, the contract can be awarded and work can get underway on the complex to be located adjacent to John D. Morgan Park. If bids come in too high, however, the housing group will either have to rebid the multi-million-dollar job or go "back to the drawing boards" to redesign the project.

The current economic slump could help keep total costs down for the Campbell project, which has been in the planning stages for several years.

First, the cost of lumber is currently lower than it's been for some time, and, second, with building projects at a premium all over the county, bids are expected to be very competitive (lower than usual).

Irma's dinner

HONORED GUEST at a dinner this Friday night in the Campbell High School cafeteria will be 80-year-old Irma Reese, who recently stepped down as director of the Campbell Progressive Seniors.

A special dinner-program has been planned by a committee sponsored by the city of Campbell and the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Topical entertainment has been planned for the event, including a rousing rendition of "The Prune Song" presented by the Campbell City Council, an appearance of the famous Sunsweet Prune Box (reputed to be Chamber executive Ted Rogers) and several numbers to be performed by the CCC (Campbell Commissioner's Chorus).

But don't rush out to buy tickets at this late date. The dinner is already "sold out" with an estimated 185 guests.

Another senior housing complex?

CYPRESS SCHOOL, no longer in use because of declining enrollment in the Campbell Union School District, is being eyed for the future site of a senior citizen housing complex.

Superintendent Walt Hauss was directed by the school board to meet with John Burns, director of the County Housing Authority, to work out more details on selling this property for senior housing. Burns already has the authorization from San Jose voters (through a referendum) to build 100 additional units of senior citizen housing in that city.

If the school district and Burns get together on the school property, the old Cypress School could be the place.

Hire a Veteran

A local program to help veterans get jobs is stepping up its efforts this week in conjunction with Hire a Veteran Week, which runs through May 10.

Staff of the Disabled Veterans Outreach Program are calling on all employers to help develop job opportunities for vets, according to Bruno Valdez, veterans program specialist with the Employment Development Department in East San Jose.

In 1979 and in the first quarter of this year, the East San Jose EDD office placed 1,595 veterans in jobs, 539 of whom were Vietnam-era veterans, Valdez says.

Employers wanting to hire a vet, or veterans looking for employment, may call the EDD Job Bank at 277-1431 or Valdez at 277-1630 for help.

Santa Clara Valley REALTOR'S REVIEW

The Palo Alto Board of Realtors, through its Housing and Community Development Committee, has been formulating recommendations and guidelines to contribute to the City of Palo Alto's planning process, according to board president Steve Suddjian.

Committee members include Richard Bassin, Chuck Edelstein, Mike Golick, Kerm Knopf and Robert Mang.

The board has proposed to city officials that the Working Committee on Affordable Housing, a group of representatives from the private sector, including board members, continue its work and expand its discussion topics to include air rights, selective increased density in R-1 zones, building code incentives, inclusionary housing and transportation and access, among other topics.

Suddjian reports that the committee has agreed to continue its effort to resolve the problem of affordable housing.

The Palo Alto board has also submitted suggestions to the City's Commission on the current revision of the City's Comprehensive Plan, including zoning revision, endorsement of below-market-rate units and publicly held lands.

Suddjian and board members Knopf and Mang are also members of the Palo Alto-Stanford Forum, an advisory group.

"We will continue to submit comments and suggestions on the Comprehensive Plan revision to planning commission members, city council members and the planning director because we feel that Realtors are very knowledgeable in the field of housing and have a valuable contribution to make to the planning process in the area of affordable housing," he said.

Realtor Tim Anderson of Palo Alto, chairman of the California Association of Realtors Ninth District education committee, comments that "because of the tremendous response and turnout we received from the Proposition 2 seminar in early April, we're planning on following it with a seminar on the 'Due on Sale' clause, which is closely linked with Proposition 2."

Planners of the seminar had hoped for 200 persons to attend, and were delighted when 300 showed up.

The Palo Alto, Sunnyvale, Mountain View and Los Altos boards sponsored the gathering. The speaker, Patrick Wood, received high marks from seminar participants for covering the subject well.

Many local Realtors are expected to enroll in a series of three Graduate Realtors Institute classes to begin this summer, sponsored by the California Association of Realtors.

Course 1 offers an introductory analysis of the area of residential sales as well as an overview of today's real estate industry. Course 11 emphasizes specialized areas within real estate while Course 111 is an advanced course dealing with investment property sales and management.

Classes will be held June 16-20 in Oakland, and August 11-15 in Anaheim.

Alfred DeCastro-Ortiz has begun work as the San Jose Real Estate Board's new project manager. He is responsible for the overall operation and installation of the new computer system.

He comes to the board from NCR Micrographic Systems Division in Mountain View where he was a systems programmer and systems installation analyst.

"We welcome Fred aboard," said Bud Cutler, assistant executive director of the board. "Because of the complexity of the installation of the computers his expertise, I'm sure, will be an asset."

The National Association of Realtors feels that inflation can be brought under control only if we get responsible federal spending; not the recent cosmetic cuts in federal spending and increase in taxes. NAR suggests the following policies to be followed for a real fight against inflation:

- Slow federal spending by at least 2 per cent, or $6 billion, during the remainder of the fiscal year 1980, so that spending totals no more than $563 billion.
- Slow spending growth by at least another 2 per cent, or $18 billion during fiscal year 1981, so that spending totals less than $595 billion (compared with the more than $613 billion budgeted expenditure proposed in March by the Administration.)
- Achieve a balanced budget in fiscal 1981 by slowing spending, not by raising taxes; federal receipts should be less than $595 billion in 1981.
- Restrict spending growth after 1981 to 2 per cent less than growth in people's income, in order to reduce the share of federal spending in Gross National Product to 20.5 per cent or less.
- Begin tax relief to encourage savings and investment in 1981, with larger tax relief in subsequent years.
- Avoid additional wage, price and credit controls of any kind.
- Ease current tight credit policies and lower interest rates to encourage investment in housing and productivity — increasing investment in new equipment.
